Vacancy

Journalist – Erongo Region

About the Role

The Namibian is seeking a fearless, multimedia regional journalist to spearhead our coverage in the Erongo Region. This vital role focuses on public interest journalism exposing corruption, tracking public funds, and holding institutional power to account across print, radio, and digital platforms.

Key Areas of Responsibility

The successful candidate will be responsible for, but not limited to:

- Regional: Anchor our presence by tracking a rolling diary of local stories and attending local events across the Erongo Region.
- Investigative and feature reporting: Uncover governance issues in state structures and private entities.
- Multimedia production: Write breaking news for print/web and produce audio bulletins for radio.
- Newsroom mentorship: Guide and edit stories for junior interns.

Minimum Requirements Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in Journalism, Communication, or a related field.

Experience:

- A minimum of three (3) years' experience as a journalist within a fast-paced newsroom, with proven investigative reporting experience.

Skills & Personal Attributes

- Background in public interest journalism, audio and video recording.
- Must hit daily quotas under tight deadlines while maintaining strict legal and ethical standards.

Affirmative Action Statement

The Namibian is an equal opportunity employer. Namibian citizens from previously disadvantaged groups, women, and persons with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply, in line with the Namibian Affirmative Action (Employment) Act.

How to Apply

Suitably qualified candidates are invited to submit a detailed CV, certified copies of qualifications, and at least two (2) contactable references to: hr@namibian.com.na

Please ensure all relevant documents are certified and submitted in PDF format.
